ConVista and Faktor Zehn are planning to merge

Cologne, 02.12.2011 It has been announced that ConVista Consulting AG, the SAP consulting house from Cologne, and Faktor Zehn AG, the IT service company from Munich, intend to merge under the umbrella of ConVista Consulting AG.

From this strategic move, both independently owned companies intend to significantly improve their service portfolio and market positions.

The Convista Group is already a leading international player in both process and IT consulting for the energy, financial services and telecommunications sectors. After the merger with Faktor Zehn, they will be at the forefront of the market – especially in the field of ‘SAP for Insurance’.

Faktor Zehn AG, also specializes in Java and Open Source Solutions. It will continue to offer in-house standard applications and consulting services as an independent subsidiary of ConVista Consulting AG under the label ‘Faktor Zehn’. All SAP services will be incorporated into the ‘ConVista’ brand.

Past collaborations between the two companies have proved successful and have displayed the benefits that will be gained by existing and future customers.

CONVISTA CONSULTING AG

As a SAP AG Service Partner and Special-Expertise-Partner, ConVista is an international consulting company specialising in the organizational and technical integration of standard software. Our portfolio of services is underpinned by our competences in processes, technology and methodology. Our consulting services focus on the insurance and utilities sectors, but we also have numerous clients in the telecommunications, banking, commerce, and the car industry. From a technological point of view our services are based around the ERP and industry solutions from SAP as well as ALICE/msg.PIA.

As an international consulting firm we support our clients across borders. This allows us to provide optimal consulting expertise locally. For this reason, ConVista has offices across the globe: with our headquarters in Cologne, we also have offices in Munich and Walldorf. Our international branches are located in Europe, USA, Africa and Asia.

FAKTOR ZEHN AG

Faktor Zehn AG is a recognised specialist for IT in the insurance sector. The company was founded in 2004 and has since become a reliable partner for SAP and Java-based software solutions, employing close to 100 highly qualified experts.
